Managing Urban Diversity

CSU/Lakeland County Community College - Lorain County Community College
Thursday 6:00 – 8:50 pm

Instructor: Dr. Michael L. Paquet
E-mail Address: m.paquet@csuohio.edu
Office Hours: By Appointment Only

Course Description
The study of diversity, including circumstances faced in urban settings that are exacerbated or affected by diversity favors, and the exploration of a range of social political and economic issues related to relevant contemporary notions of diversity.

General Information

U. S. Diversity Requirement – Courses fulfilling this requirement must meet all of the following criteria:

1. Have a primary focus on the experience of human diversity in the United States on one or more of the following groups:
   - Native Americans
   - Hispanic Americans
   - Asian Americans
   - Women
   - LGBTQ (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Questioning) persons
   - Persons with disabilities

2. Explore the concept of diversity as a contemporary phenomenon. A historical approach is acceptable if it leads to an understanding of the contemporary situation.

3. Provide students with knowledge of how the respective discipline analyzes the experience of human diversity.
General Education Statement: This course is approved as a General Education 08 course meeting the requirements for U. S. Diversity. Skill areas for this class include Critical Thinking and Group Work.

Skill Area: Critical Thinking Criteria

1. This course requires that at least 15% of the student’s grade in the course is based on an evaluation of critical thinking.

2. This course requires students to attain skills beyond lower-level knowledge, thereby requiring skills that involve the use of content knowledge (e.g. finding information to solve a problem).

Skill Area: Group Work

1. A group project is a significant part of the class. The project particularizes the general focus of the course.

2. The group process will be discussed in the class and assistance is provided to insure that all groups can work through issues that might occur.

3. Grading will be based on both individual and group efforts.

Students With Disabilities – “Educational access is the provision of classroom accommodations, auxiliary aids and services to ensure equal educational opportunities for all students regardless of their disability. Any student who feels he or she may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office of Disability Services at 216.687.2015. The office is located in CSU304. Accommodations need to be requested in advance and will not be granted retroactively.” This statement on the course syllabi affirms the commitment of CSU to uphold our responsibilities under the law. It also welcomes students to feel comfortable disclosing their needs so that they can meet educational goals.

Writing Help – If you need to focus your ideas, draft or revise papers or generally improve your writing, the CSU Writing Center is available to assist you. Please call 216.687.6981 to make an appointment or visit the website http://www.csuohio.edu/writing-center/

Plagiarism – Plagiarism is stealing and/or using the ideas or writings of another in a paper or report and claiming them as one’s own. This includes but is not limited to the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. The penalties for plagiarism are found in full in the Student Handbook under Academic Regulations (Policy on Academic Misconduct) at http://www.csuohio.edu/studentlife/conduct/acadegres.html

Course Requirements

Blackboard – Blackboard will be used for this course in order to turn in assignments and papers. Refer to syllabus and instructor for all information and questions. Submit all assignments to instructor at m.paquet@csuohio.edu

Distance Learning – This class is offered through IVDL (interactive video distance learning) with students on the CSU Main Campus and at Lorain County Community College. The instructor will split his presence between both campuses.

Attendance – Each student is expected to attend class. Children are not allowed. If an absence is essential, the student is responsible for any assignments made or due during his/her absence. In the event of an emergency, please contact the instructor.

Class Participation – This class is highly interactive given the subject and your success will depend on active participation in discussions and group work, as well as meeting assignment requirements and deadlines. Bring syllabus, text and copies of the week’s individual/group assignment to every class. NOTE: All assignments are due by 6 p.m. the day of class BEFORE class begins and are to be submitted via Blackboard.

Assignment Guidelines – The syllabus is subject to change.

Readings – Complete assigned readings and discussion BEFORE each class and be prepared to discuss and analyze each reading, including your opinions and personal experiences.

Individual and Group Work – This course requires both individual reading and writing homework, out-of-class group discussion and group writing homework. Group papers will be graded with all members receiving the same grade. Group members will have the opportunity to grade how well their group works together, as well as each individual’s contributions to the group’s work. An individual e-journal of group work is required and will be discussed in class.

Written Assignments, Due Dates/Times/Methods – Written assignments are due on assigned date and BEFORE class begins (before 6 p.m.). NOTE: Submit assignments via Blackboard.

Paper, Sources – Written papers for an individual assignment should incorporate information from readings and research, and your personal perspective. Group papers may rely more heavily on objective information and less on personal reflection, although including a summary of the group’s discussion on topics will add an element of personal perspective.

Papers, Format – Double-spaced. Unless otherwise specified, the requirement for individual papers is 2-3 pages, group papers is 4 pages, Mid-term group paper is 8 to 10 pages, and the Final group paper is to be 12 to 14 pages. Papers should include the title, your name, or group member names, and the week of assignment. APA format will be used (see Purdue OWL for guidance on APA formatting).

Group Ground Rules – Consider the following:

Civility can be promoted by the lesser use of “I” statements and an effort to HALT and PAUSE prior to imposing a thought in order to offer a more considered statement. Notions that promote the “sharing of the air” are always helpful in making certain that each of the class members is heard in the manner in which they desire. What happens in here stays in here is a great way to think about the conversations in which we engage the written material. It is academic discourse which we are creating. Thus, this is a very different realm than general discourse and as such should be more tolerant of ideas with which we may or may not agree. Rooted thought in foundational thinking is critical. For example, using the text or other peer reviewed information is a great way to support various thoughts on tough subjects. Using quotations or citing relevant data demonstrates an even more advanced level of thinking.
Grades of “I” and “X”

- X - The grade of "X" can be assigned by the instructor when an attending/participating student has stopped attending/participating without notification and has not completed all assignments for reasons that cannot be determined by the end of the grading period. An "X" automatically becomes an F if not resolved by the last day of instruction of the following semester. An “X” also will be assigned by the University Registrar when no grade is submitted by an instructor.

- I - Incomplete. The "I" grade is given when the work in a course has been generally passing, but when some specifically required task has not been completed through no fault of the student.

An "I" grade can be assigned by the instructor when all three of the following conditions are met:

1. Student is regularly attending/participating in the class and has the potential to pass the course;
2. Student has not completed all assignments and has stopped attending/participating for reasons deemed justified by the instructor; and
3. Student has notified the instructor prior to the end of the grading period.

Group Ground Rules – When discussing content in class respect for the thoughts of others is critical. Please consider the following:

A Word of Warning, Caution and Pause:

Successful completion of this course requires students to:

1. Develop a personal work plan (schedule) for the semester to meet the demands of the course. Once a work plan is developed, students should adhere to the plan.
2. Stay focused.
3. Keep in mind the instructor will not give incompletes without evidence or documentation of cause – papers should be submitted on time to avoid receiving zero for assignments submitted late.
4. If there is an issue related to timeliness or attendance, notify the instructor immediately.
